Welcome,

Dear colleagues, It gives us immense pleasure to invite you to attend AIIMS Pain Practice and Regional Anaesthesia (APPRA 2016) Conference and workshop organized by Department of Anaesthesiology, Pain Medicine and Critical Care from January 8th -10th , 2016 at JLN Auditorium, AIIMS, New Delhi.

AIIMS, New Delhi has always been engaged in various academic activities; to continue the same tempo of learning, we are planning to give a boost to it by organizing this conference.

This three days academic extravaganza will witness row of lectures, panel discussion, and interactive sessions with experts in the field of pain management and regional anaesthesia.

APPRA -2016 will offer a platform in learning the different Fluoroscopic and US- guided interventional pain procedures, and regional anaesthesia techniques. There will be live demonstration of pain management procedures by eminent faculty, fluoroscopic-guided cadaver workshop along with US-guided live model workshop on interventional pain procedures and regional anaesthesia. The National capital is one of the best tourist hubs, famous for the monuments, shopping malls and multicuisine restaurants. Month of January is also the best time to feel the thrill of winter along with academic feast.

So, come, share and interact. Be enriched and enjoy the academic boom.

Regards,
