RECENT ADVANCES IN BIOMEDICAL RESEARCH: STRATEGIES AND INNOVATION

SYSCON 2016 will be held on May 26-27, 2016 in AIIMS. The annual conference of SYS will bring together scientists, academicians, young research scholars and entrepreneurs to exchange ideas and experience. Our association with VIBHA India has added a unique dimension to SYSCON by encouraging school students to display scientific ideas. We hope that SYSCON 2016 will fulfil the aim of SYS, to provide a scientific platform for one and all.

Highlights of the conference are:

- Contribution of Basic Science Research to Healthcare
- Recent Developments in Translational Research
- Innovations in Biomedical Research

Call for Abstracts:

- Author may submit abstract for poster/oral/ both.
- The abstract shall not exceed 1500 characters and should be without figures, tables etc.
- All authors must register for SYSCON 2016.
- The abstract submission deadline is Apr 20, 2016.
- Abstracts if approved, would be printed in proceedings of SYSCON 2016.
- Papers selected for oral presentation must be presented in PPT format within 8 minutes.

“RECENT ADVANCES IN BIOMEDICAL RESEARCH: STRATEGIES AND INNOVATION”

ABOUT US

The Society of Young Scientists (SYS) was founded in 1974 due to joint efforts by Prof. Pradeep Seth and Prof. B.L.Jailkhani. The society was formed to bring together research scholars on one platform. The umbrella of SYS covers M.Sc, Ph.D, JRF, SRF, RA, RO and SRO. Since its inception SYS has actively worked towards strengthening scientific cooperation among research scholars across different institutes.

HIGHLIGHTS

SYSCON 2016, the annual conference of SYS aims at promoting excellence and innovation in science. Our previous conferences have focused on a wide range of scientific achievements and problems.

- Contribution of Basic Science Research to Healthcare
- Recent Developments in Translational Research
- Innovations in Biomedical Research

SYSCON 2016 will become centre stage for scientists, academicians, young research scholars and entrepreneurs from all over the country. Our aim is to improve scientific co-operation as well as increase understanding of science by general public.

Scientific sessions will focus on encouraging interdisciplinary approaches. Workshops for high-end bio-analytical techniques, bioinformatics and proteomics will provide an interactive interface for young research scholars. Panel discussions and interactive sessions will aim at exchange of ideas, technological advancements and innovative strategies to tackle current healthcare problems.
